Choosing a Funding Company to Buy your Structured Settlement

May 31st, 2009 by Roger Proctor

The decision to sell your structured settlement is a big one. Perhaps one of the largest assets you have, you want to make sure that you get a fair price and are working with a reputable funding company.

At Genex Capital we encourage you to take your time, shop around and make sure that you are comfortable with the company you are working with before proceeding to enter into a sale agreement. In that regard, you may want to consult services such as www.structuredsettlementquote.com, which shops your payments to a number of funding companies and provides you with the best offers automatically without hassle to you.

It is our policy to offer our best price upfront for your structured settlement or other annuity. While we are not always perfect, we strive to provide the fastest service permitted by law and we work with you to secure the transaction that best meets your financial needs.

So, please take the time to properly research your sale so as to get the best overall experience possible.

Visit us at www.genexcapital.com or call us Today at 800-348-3098 and one of our highly trained Customer Service Experts will be pleased to assist you.
