Do any of these sound familiar to you? If you have ever thought about selling structured settlement payments or your annuity it should.

Every day thousands of Americans are turning to companies like Woodbridge Investments, and JG Wentworth to sell structured settlements.

Woodbridge Investments and JG Wentworth

Competitors like Woodbridge Investments, JG Wentworth, and many more are fiercely vying for your business. Companies that buy structured settlements and annuities understand that with the rate of inflation, the higher costs of living, and changes in available job markets nationwide, more and more people are choosing to sell structured settlement payments and future insurance settlement payments for a large lump sum now.

Woodbridge Investments and JG Wentworth are among the nation's largest purchaser of future payments. These companies offer a lump sum of cash to individuals in exchange for their structured settlements and annuities.

With several trillion dollars in total assets backing annuities, structured settlements, and life insurance policies, the competition has made it even easier for individuals to get access to their money.

Thousands of people who have been awarded settlements, or are receiving annuities realize that the money they are receiving in the form of periodic payments is not enough.

Selling future payments for a lump sum to pay for unforeseen expenses, medical debt, or other immediate needs is a growing trend among today's annuity and settlement recipients.

Is there a difference?

JG Wentworth, Woodbridge Investments and others - Is there a difference in which company you choose to sell your payments to?

The answer is yes, absolutely!

Because of the unyielding marketing strategies, and growing competition between companies that buy structured settlements Americans are getting more out of their future payments than ever.

Years ago, you may have been gambling with your odds at getting the most money for your settlement or payments. For today's sellers it is almost a guaranteed certainty. Getting a free quote may be easier than you think!

It is because of the nation's largest competitors; Woodbridge Investments, JG Wentworth and a handful of others that you are able to ensure that you are getting the largest lump sum possible.

You can call or go online and get a free quote for selling your settlement right away! It only takes a few minutes to find out what your payments are worth.

Courteous and knowledgeable professionals from these companies will give you a quote, explain how you can determine the amount of money you need and want, and guide you through the entire process.

All you need is three (3)

You only need to know three things about your payments to get your free quote.

1. How much? How much are your payments, what is the dollar amount you receive?
2. How often? How often do you receive your payments? Are you receiving periodic payments monthly, yearly, etc.....
3. How many? How many payments or how long will you be receiving your payments? Do you want to sell all or a portion of your future payments?

These three key components will determine how large a lump sum you will receive when you sell your future insurance payments, annuity payments, or structured settlement.

Even if you have previously sold payments, you can still get a quote to see how much your remaining payments are worth.

Today's structured settlement and annuity recipients have a choice in how they will receive their money. You can choose to accept the payments you currently receive or you can get a lump sum now to use for whatever you decide.

Make a choice that is right for you. At Woodbridge Investments we work hard to beat any offer from a legitimate company. Just fax it in and we'll tell you if we can offer more!
